MANAGEMENT POLICY

Faced with a particularly resilient US economy and recovering European activity indicators, shares in cyclical sectors were particularly sought after in markets that nevertheless slowed down in April. The S & P500 lost more than 4%, the CAC40 approximately 2.7% and the Eurostoxx 50 1.52%. In fact, investors have noted a new scenario on rates. They now anticipate one to two rate cuts in the US versus six at the beginning of the year, propelling US long rates at 4.48% at the end of April (vs. 3.8% at the start of January). It was not the geopolitical context or the uncertainty connected to the world elections that reassured the markets, whose volatility increased over the month. It should be noted, however, that the annual performance of the markets is still very good in 2024. Beginning in March, the sector rotation towards the so called 'value' sectors continued during April, particularly in favor of the basic resources, energy and banks sectors. Conversely, the technology and luxury sectors slowed down.

PALATINE Europe Sustainable Employment among the positive contributors were a few stocks which benefited from very good results above the consensus: Publicis, Prysmian and BNP. Health related stocks (AstraZeneca, Sanofi, Novo Nordisk) gained over the month as, after having underperformed for a long time, they played their defensive role. Over the month we were mainly penalised by our absence on energy securities. They have benefited from geopolitical tensions in the Middle East. We were also penalised by our overweighting in technology stocks such as Capgemini, Dassault Systèmes and STMicroelectronics, which posted negative performances following their lacklustre publications.

We reinforced KBC, a bank with strong capital generation (higher ROE than the sector every year since 2013). On the social front, KBC places great emphasis on career flexibility and the possibility of training to acquire new expertise. The best talents meet during the 'KBC University' forum in order to create a leadership and a sense of belonging of the bank. Trimming of LVMH, whose growth has reassured but remains modest for the first half of 2024. We reinforced Capgemini: Management sees activity turning point in the first half of the year before recovering at the end of the year. Furthermore, the Campus Serge Kampf Les Fontaines, named after Capgemini 's founder, hosts training and development programmes. In addition, Capgemini launched an ambitious program focused on promoting the career development of women at all levels of the organization. The company is committed to ensuring that women make up 40% of the workforce by the end of 2025, with 30% representation of women in management teams.
